

pop song

Both performers begin by creating a relatively short phrase that they exactly repeat, while in sync, 8 times. This represents the 'verse' of the song. A 'pre-chorus' is then created, which is repeated 4 times. Following this is 8 repetitions of a 'chorus'.

This whole cycle (verse, pre-chorus, chorus) is repeated twice, using the same material both times.

After this follows an unrelated 'bridge' of unidentified length.

After the bridge, the original chorus is repeated 16 times.

After the final 'double chorus' an outro is performed.
